SUPER 8 SOUND
SALES CATALOGUE

2006 - 2007

Introduction

We are delighted to present this, the latest edition of the Derann catalogue of SUPER 8 SOUND movies. For over 35 years Derann have been undisputed leaders, providing the super 8 film collector with a wide range of quality movies to screen at home and maintaining a steady flow of new releases.

We are grateful to the major film distributors who support us, and who's product has helped keep film alive, especially Walt Disney whose feature releases have proven that stunning print and sound quality can be achieved on super 8.

By screening films at home, the older film buffs have been able to show youngsters just how wonderful the cinema can be, and encourage them to support their local cinema. Without doubt, film has a magic all of it's own - nothing can ever quite take it's place.

We send out a regular newsletter with new release information as well as a monthly email list. Do make sure that your name is on the mailing list! It's only £6.00 for a years subscription (it's free by email). You are then assured of being kept fully up to date, with new release news, special offers and second hand bargains.

We also publish FILM FOR THE COLLECTOR a 40 page magazine filled with articles about your hobby which includes SUPER 8 FILM REVIEW, 12 pages edited by Keith Wilton and packed with honest film reviews. Subscription rates, are £14. 00 per four issues (U.K).

Why not attend one of our regular OPEN DAYS, with dozens of films & accessories on sale, and films being screened throughout the day in our cinema. We also organize the now famous and popular NORTHERN FILM COLLECTORS CONVENTION, which takes place in Blackpool every November and the MIDLANDS FILM CONVENTION in April. We also support and attend the BRITISH FILM COLLECTORS CONVENTIONS, organized by Keith Wilton, and held in April and October at Ealing, London.

We are open Monday to Friday 9. 00am until 5.30pm.

The Film Department is closed on SATURDAY and SUNDAY.

Our Audio Visual department can supply Hi Fi, T.V, Video/DVD players/recorders and discs etc.

Now relax and browse through this catalogue, bearing in mind that titles do get withdrawn due to contractual obligations, or negative damage. Likewise we release new titles on a regular basis details of which can be found in our news letters.

A SEPARATE LIST IS AVAILABLE IF YOU COLLECT 16MM FILMS.

HAPPY SCREENINGS.

FILM LENGTHS

Spool size DOES NOT DENOTE THE EXACT LENGTH OF THE FILM, as this may vary according to material & content.

STEREO SOUND

Prints with a stereo sound track require the use of a stereo projector in order to obtain the full enjoyment of the film, however, most stereo tracks will play quite well on a mono projector, you will, of course, obtain normal mono sound only.

SCOPE PRINTS

Where advertised - need an anamorphic lens for projection.

LAB SPLICES

Due to laboratory methods of printing, some 8mm prints may contain a lab splice. Regretfully, this is beyond our control.

SOUNDTRACKS

All titles, unless otherwise stated have magnetic soundtracks, with the sound advanced 18 frames, and have a projector speed of 24 f.p.s.

Always check the film for sound quality before you remove any leaders or tails - it is impossible for us to re-record sound once these have been removed. We accept no responsibility for returned prints if they have been altered with in any way.

THE ENTIRE CONTENTS AND LAYOUT OF THIS CATALOGUE ARE (C) DERANN FILM SERVICES LTD. ALL PICTORIAL REPRODUCTIONS ARE COPYRIGHT THEIR RESPECTIVE OWNERS. NO PART OF THIS CATALOGUE MAY BE COPIED OR REPRODUCED IN ANY FORM WHATSOEVER.

EACH FILM CARRIES A PRICE CODE, CHECK WITH THE SEPARATE PRICE CODE LIST

WE STRONGLY RECOMMEND YOU TREAT NEW PRINTS WITH Liquid Film Cleaner BEFORE PROJECTING. THIS WILL HELP GIVE A STEADIER PICTURE AND HELP TO PREVENT SCRATCHING.

THE COPYRIGHT PROPRIETORS HAVE LICENSED THE MATERIAL CONTAINED IN THIS CATALOGUE FOR NON COMMERCIAL HOME USE ONLY, AND PROHIBITS ANY OTHER USE WHATSOEVER. FILMS MAY NOT BE USED FOR RENTAL PURPOSES.

FILM CONVENTIONS

Why not visit some of the countries Film Conventions or the Derann Open Days where you can always be sure to pick up that rare bargain. There are usually two conventions held in Ealing town hall during the spring and autumn. Attractions include many dealers, bring and buy stalls and film shows throughout the day. One of the largest conventions is held in Black-pool (The Northern Film Collectors Convention). This includes a Saturday evening dinner with entertainment followed by the convention on the Sunday which comprises of film shows, bring and buy and the famous Black-pool Auction.

Throughout the year Derann also open their doors for their special Open Days where you can find many sale items and one off used rare bargains.

For full details gives us a call for a complete list of events throughout the year.

STAR WARS

THE PHANTOM MENACE

THE POD RACE

One of the most electrifying scenes in Star Wars Episode I is the pod race between Anakin Skywalker and the heavily favored Sebulba. The speed, danger and excitement of this galactic pastime can now be yours to experience again and again in this breathtaking extract.

THE MINES OF MORIA

From Peter Jackson's much applauded trilogy comes this eerie sequence. The Fellowship enter the inky blackness of Moria and face fearsome terrors in the labyrinth of tunnels. Stars Elijia Wood, Ian McKellen and John Rhys-Davies.

REEL ONE: Main credits and introduction from Gene Kelly. Dance Numbers from 'So This is Paris', 'Flying High', '42nd St' and 'Gold Diggers of 1933' concludes with a rare promo reel for 'Dames'. REEL THREE: Deleted dance number featuring Ray Bolger from 'The Wizard of Oz'. Mikail Baryshnikov looks at 'On Your Toes', 'The Red Shoes', 'Carousel'. Tour of 1940's MGM's studios.

REEL TWO: 'Gold Diggers of 1935', 'Roberta', 'Broadway Melody of 1936', 'Down Argentine Way'. And contains routines featuring the likes of Shirley Temple and Bill 'Bojangles' Robinson. REEL FOUR: Dance numbers from 'Royal Wedding', 'Singin' in the Rain', 'Invitation to the Dance', 'It's Always Fair Weather', 'Yankee Doodle Dandy' and 'Kiss Me Kate'.

REEL FIVE: 'Oklahoma', 'Sweet Charity', 'Silk Stockings', 'West Side Story', 'Saturday Night Fever', 'Fame', 'Flashdance'. And a sequence featuring Michael Jackson. End credits.

Derann's Rodgers & Hammerstein Collection

Rodgers and Hammerstein were the American song-writing duo. They created a string of immensely popular Broadway musicals in the 1940s and 1950s, which in turn were made into money spinning movies. In all, their shows and films garnered 34 Tony Awards; 15 Academy Awards; 2 Pulitzer Prizes; and 2 Grammys.

Perhaps the most successful of all their collaborations, it follows the trials of Maria, a trainee nun, who is given the post of governess to the seven children of a retired Austrian Navy Captain. The rest, as they say, is history. Julie Andrews was an astounding newcomer and the film has remained a firm favourite ever since it's 1965 release.

Though we no longer offer this title full length, we feel sure this skilfully edited 90 minute version will satisfy you. The musical numbers are all here, albeit in abridged form and include 'My Favourite Things', 'Do-Re-Me', 'Climb Every Mountain' & 'Edelweiss'.

Considered to be one of the finest stage musicals ever written, it was innovative for its time, being one of the first musicals to contain a tragic plot.

The tale of Billy Bigelow and Julie Jordan as they struggle to make ends meet and his decision to turn to crime, is a story that strikes a chord in everyone's heart. Many of the numbers have now become standards and include 'If I Loved You', 'You'll Never Walk Alone', 'The Carousel Waltz' & 'June Is Bustin' Out All Over'.

THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT III

Like its two predecessors, this musical anthology consists of numerous sequences from MGM's greatest musical achievements. In addition however are many outtakes that never made it into the finished films, there's also some never before seen footage with the likes of Judy Garland, Debbie Reynolds, Ava Gardner and others as well as a look at how numbers were created. As with the earlier entries these highlights are hosted by many great MGM stars.

REEL ONE: Main credits . 'The Five Locust Sisters' 1928; Hollywood Review of 1929; footage from the Technicolor movie 'The March of Time', a spectacular musical review that was never completed. 'Hollywood Party 1934' & 'Broadway Melody of 1938'; 'Lady Be Good' with Eleanor Powell, we are treated to unseen footage of the number 'Fascinating Rhythm' and see how it was filmed using ingenious moving sets. Closes with Garland & Rooney from the finale of 'Babes in Arms'.

REEL TWO: 'Jupiter's Darling', 'Dangerous When Wet' & 'Texas Carnival' We see the circular pool built for the Tarzan films but used in many of Esther's movies. 'Cleopatra' from 'Till the Clouds Roll By'; 'Best Foot Forward'. 'Anchors Aweigh', 'Easter Parade'. 'Pass that Peace-Pipe' from 'Good News'; 'Broadway Rhythm'; The genius of Gene Kelly starting with 'For Me and My Girl'.

REEL THREE: 'Summer Stock', 'Words and Music', 'Slaughter on 10th Avenue' from 'Words on Music', 'Singin' in the Rain' & 'The Beautiful Heather on the Hill' from 'Brigadoon'. Debbie Reynolds in an out-take from 'Singin' in the Rain'. Glamour with Tony Martin in 'Ziegfeld Girl'. Two versions of 'A Lady Loves' from 'I Love Melvin'. We see Joan Crawford in 'Torch Song' & Cyd Charisse in 'Band Wagon' (dropped from the final film) both perform to the same dub of 'Two Faced Woman'.

PART FOUR: For Latin lovers Ricardo Montalban, Anne Miller and Cyd Charisse in 'The Kissing Bandit' and a colourful number with Carman Miranda. Songs from Lena Horne in 'Panama Hattie', & 'Cabin in the Sky' (cut from final film). And you can judge for ourselves Ava Gardner's own singing voice, which was never used in the final edit of 'Showboat'. From the MGM vaults we see Judy Garland sing 'I'm an Indian Too' which she shot for 'Annie Get Your Gun', before her breakdown and her role was taken over by Betty Hutton.

PART FIVE: Mickey Rooney looks at Judy Garland's career 'Everybody Sing', 'Love Finds Andy Hardy', 'The Wizard of Oz', 'Till the Clouds Roll By', And numbers cut from 'The Harvey Girls' and 'Easter Parade' (March of the Dorkies' & 'Mr. Monotony'). Anne Miller takes a look at Fred Astaire at MGM.

PART SIX: Astaire in 'Drum Crazy' from 'Easter Parade', 'The Girl Hunt Ballet' from 'Band Wagon', and with Ginger Rogers from 'The Berkley's of Broadway'. Using split screen we see two versions of a routine from 'The Belle of New York'. 'Stereophonic Sound' from 'Silk Stockings'. Doris Day performs 'Shakin' the Blues Away' from 'Love Me or Leave Me'. Elvis Presley in 'Jailhouse Rock' and a short montage from 'Gigi'. End credits

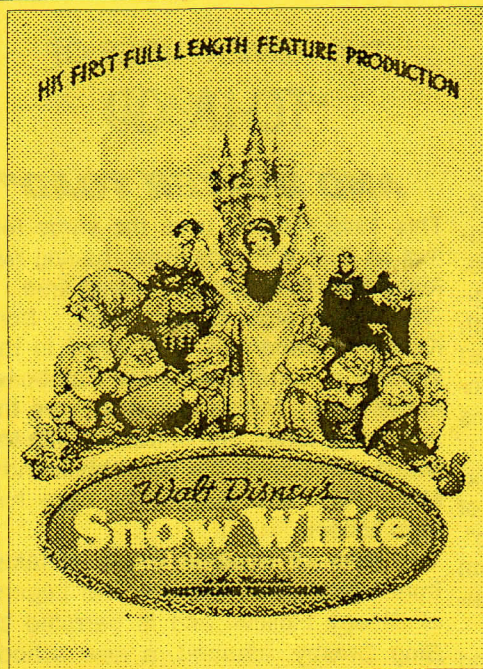

The NAT 'KING' COLE STORY

Despite the fact that the negative for this item came from overseas many years ago, this special Universal-International "Musical Featurette" is still highly enjoyable. Released in 1955 it traces the career of Nat "King" Cole, who portrays himself, shows the ups and downs of his career, his conquest of illness, how he switched from being the leader of a trio to a solo vocalist, and his growing popularity with the record-buying public. Numbers include: "Sweet Lorraine," "Route 66," "That's My Girl" and "Pretend."

Disney's Golden Years

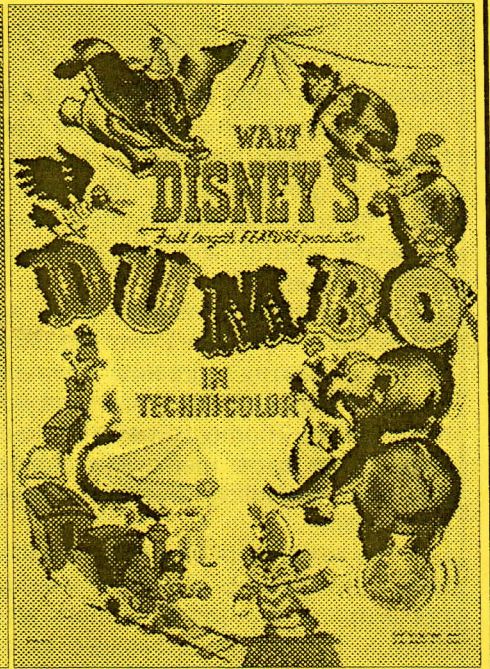

After many years and dozens of animated shorts, Walt Disney turned their talents to making feature films. These early features are now considered by many to be masterpieces. Judge for yourself.

Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs

Pinocchio

DUMBO

Although Snow White was the first full length animated cartoon to be produced in Technicolor it was not the first full length cartoon, there had been 6 before it and the 1917 Argentine film 'El Apóstol' holds the distinction of being the first. It was however the first to become so successful and has remained the jewel in Disney's crown for nearly 85 years.

The plot of the film, adapted from the old German fairy tale Snow White by the Brothers Grimm, explores the story of a jealous and wicked queen's attempts to have her stepdaughter murdered. She escapes and is given shelter by seven dwarfs (these are some of the screens most memorable characters), who live deep in a forest, but the evil queen discovers her hiding place and renews her murderous plots. Snow White is as fresh today as when it was first released in 1938, and was the most successful motion picture of the year. It's also the third highest-grossing film of all time within the United States when adjusted for inflation.

The songs include 'I'm Wishing', 'Whistle While You Work' and the classic 'Heigh-Ho'.

3x600' Colour £279.00 Plus P&P

Based on the book Pinocchio: Tale of a Puppet by Carlo Collodi, it was made in response to the enormous success of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, but was not commercially successful when first released, with Disney only recouping half of its $2.3 million budget.

The plot of the film involves a wooden puppet being brought to life by the blue fairy, who tells him he can become a real boy if he proves himself worthy by learning courage, kindness, and honesty. Thus begins the puppet's adventures to become a real boy, which involves many an encounter with a host of unsavoury characters. Its a movie that brings out the child in all of us. Unforgettable characters including Jiminy Cricket, Foulfellow, Lampwick and Stromboli make this quest one of the most entertaining animated feature films ever. Many believe that this films beautifully detailed animation has never been bettered, even by Disney themselves.

Songs include the Disney standards 'When You Wish upon a Star', 'Give a Little Whistle' and "'Hi-Diddle-Dee-Dee (An Actor's Life for Me)'.

4x600' Colour £275.00 Plus P&P

Dumbo, released in 1941, was based upon a children's book of the same name by Helen Aberson, and was designed as an economical feature to help generate income for the Disney studio after the financial failures of both Pinocchio and Fantasia in 1940.

The main character is Jumbo Jr., a baby elephant who is cruelly nicknamed Dumbo, due to his abnormally large ears. But with the help of his only friend, Timothy Mouse, he overcomes his embarrassment and with the aid of a 'magic feather' soon becomes the star of the bigtop when it turns out that he is capable of flying by using them as wings. Dumbo was a deliberate exercise in simplicity and is today considered one of Disney's finest films.

Here is a unashamedly sentimental tale of a friend who is instrumental in helping another find greatness within himself.

Among the musical numbers are 'When I see an Elephant Fly' and 'Pink Elephants on Parade'.

MORE FROM DISNEY'S GOLDEN YEARS

Bambi

Based on the 1923 book 'Bambi, A Life in the Woods' by Austrian author Felix Salten, this film released in 1942 follows the growing pains of a young fawn, discovering and learning about the world around him, both its beauty and its danger.

Generation after generation have acknowledged this heart-warming story as being Disney's greatest animated classic. Filled with fun, excitement and heart rending moments it also contains some of the most memorable characters ever, including Thumper, Flower and Phylline.

Like the majority of Disney's animated films it embraces both joy and tragedy. For instance, the joy of Bambi's walk through the forest is brought to an abrupt end by a violent thunderstorm and his first visit to the meadow is interrupted by hunters who fire at Bambi and his mother.

The film ends with a new birth and with Bambi standing proudly at the top of the mountain, looking down proudly as his father did at his own birth.

The film does not contain any songs but never the less still has some beautiful musical interludes including the enchanting 'Little April Showers'.

Fun & Fancy Free

Fun and Fancy Free, released in 1947, was one of the compilation films produced by Disney studio in the 1940s. These and other featurettes were originally planned to be made as full-length features but ended up becoming part of a compilation 'feature', Disney produced six of these "package" features during the 40's.

The film begins with Jiminy Cricket exploring a house and playing a record of Dinah Shore telling the tale of "Bongo", a circus bear cub, who runs away from the circus to the wild and the adventures that follow.

The second segment is "Mickey and the Beanstalk," a retelling of Jack and the Beanstalk with Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck, and Goofy as peasants who discover Willie the Giant in the sky, after using some magic beans.

This second tale has a Live-action wraparound featuring Edgar Bergen and puppets Charlie McCarthy and Mortimer Snerd.

3x600' Colour £239.00 Plus P&P

THE ADVENTURES OF ICHABOD

AND MISTER TOAD™

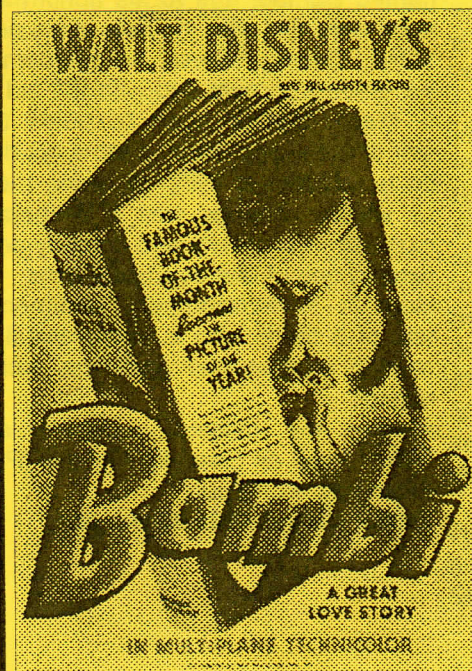

This 1949 release uses the same format as 'Fun & Fancy Free', having two featurettes to fill out it's running time.

The adventures of Mr. Toad, from Kenneth Grahame's 'The Wind in the Willows' is narrated by Basil Rathbone. In this story, Toad's desire to have the very latest lands him in trouble with the wrong crowd, and it is up to his friends, Mole, Rat, and Badger to save him from himself.

The story of Ichabod Crane is taken from Washington Irving's 'The Legend of Sleepy Hollow' and is narrated by Bing Crosby. Ichabod, a new schoolmaster, falls for the town beauty, Katrina, and the town bully Brom Bones decides that he is a little too successful and needs "convincing" that Katrina is not for him.

The Adventures of Ichabod and Mr. Toad was the last of these "package" films, and Disney returned to single narrative features with 1950's "Cinderella".

Disney in the 50's

The fifties were a lean time for Hollywood, the Cold War and TV all made their mark. Disney tightened their belts and ended up producing a handful of bright, breezy and memorable features.

CINDERELLA

Their twelfth animated feature was considered a gamble by many insiders, but it's simple story, sympathetic characters and lively songs turned it into a true Disney classic.

Upon her father's death, Cinderella's stepmother reveals her true nature: cold, cruel and selfish. She and her daughters treat Cinderella as a servant, who's only friends are the mice and birds she feeds daily.

But help in the form of her Fairy Godmother isn't too far away and when she's given chores to keep her from attending the Prince's Ball, the magical Godmother appears and before you can say Bibbidi-Bobbidi-Boo she's dancing in the arms of the dashing prince.

A wonderful family film filled with music and songs.

PETER PAN

Based on the play and novel by J. M. Barrie, the rights to which Disney had owned since the late thirties. It was also the final Disney animated feature released through RKO, as Walt Disney established his own distribution company, Buena Vista Distribution, by the end of 1953.

The story, like Peter himself never ages and is one of the most entertaining and enduring Disney cartoon features ever. The tale of a boy who wouldn't grow up, and of his constant battle with his nemesis, Captain Hook, in Never Never Land.

When he takes Wendy, John and Michael Darling they have an adventure which they will never forget. Along the way they will fly, meet mermaids, get captured by Indians and fight pirates!

The film features several songs including 'The Second Star to the Right', 'You Can Fly!', & 'Following the Leader'.

3x600' Colour £259.00 Plus P&P

LADY AND THE TRAMP

Released in 1955 by Buena Vista Distribution/RKO Radio Pictures, it was the first animated feature filmed in the Cinemascope widescreen process.

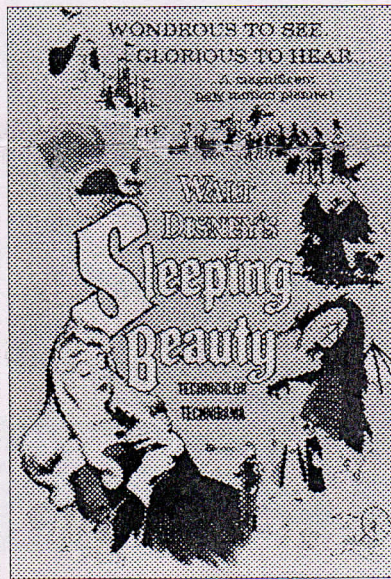

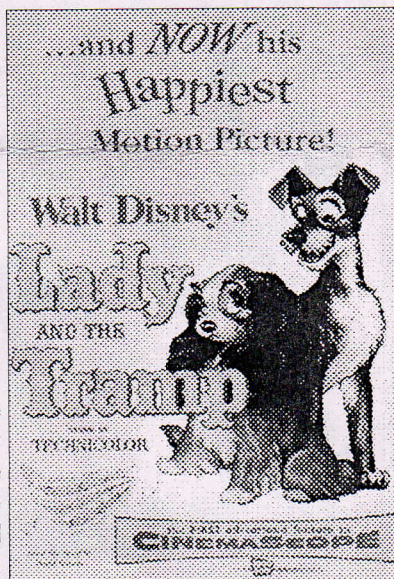

The story pairs a female Cocker Spaniel named Lady, who lives with a rich family and a male mutt named Tramp, who lives on the streets. Once the two of them meet, they share an adventure together and eventually fall in love.

It has some truly sumptuous animation and the finely drawn backgrounds are amongst the best ever to appear in any Disney animated feature.

Many of the films characters have become as popular as the film itself, these include Jock, Si and Am, not forgetting Peg the sassy Stray female Lhasa Apso, whom Lady meets, along with the other dog inmates she's put in a cage with, when she is caught by the dog catchers. And who can forget the spaghetti scene and the following night in the park, they are surely the most romantic moments in any animated feature.

Sleeping Beauty

Released in 1959 it was the first animated feature to be shot in Super Technirama 70. Only one other animated film, 'The Black Cauldron', was filmed in this format.

With a wonderful music score adapted from Tchaikovsky's ballet, this is the magical tale of Princess Aurora. Cursed by the evil witch Maleficent she is placed in the care of three good witches, but even their magic can't help and the princess falls into a deep sleep! Now Prince Phillip is the only one with the courage to challenge the curse.

The film is highly stylized and finely detailed, due to the extra space engineered by the widescreen process and has gained a reputation as one of Disney's finest animated features.

Disney in the 60's

As with any new decade the swingin' sixties where a time of great change, but they were also a period of fun and experimentation. Disney could feel the challenge and met it with wit and style!

The Jungle Book

Loosely based on the Mowgli stories written by Rudyard Kipling, this was an instant success when released in 1967.

When the wolf pack who have raised the mancub, known as Mowgli, hear that the man-eating tiger Shere Khan has returned to the jungle, it is decided that he must be returned to the man village.

Bagheera, the black panther volunteers to take him, but Mowgli has other ideas and with his new found friend, fun loving bear Baloo, has a series of exciting adventures.

This is a colourful, fun filled escapade, with some of the best Disney tunes ever to grace an animated feature, including 'Bare Necessities' & 'I Wanna Be Like You'.

One Hundred & One Dalmatians

The highest grossing film of 1961 and one of the studio's most popular films of the decade. When re-released in 1991 it was one of the top 10 films of that year. It's outrageous villainess, chain smoking Cruella De Vil is a delight to watch and much of the films success can be put down to her crafty wickedness.

When Cruella offers a large sum of money for 15 puppies so that she can produce dog-skin coats, she's turned down. But she won't take no for an answer, and hires brothers Jasper and Horace to kidnap the puppies. Locked away, along with 84 other stolen puppies it's up to Dalmatians Pongo and Perdita, to go to the rescue.

Hitting cinema screens in 1963, this was the 18th animated feature produced at the Disney studios.

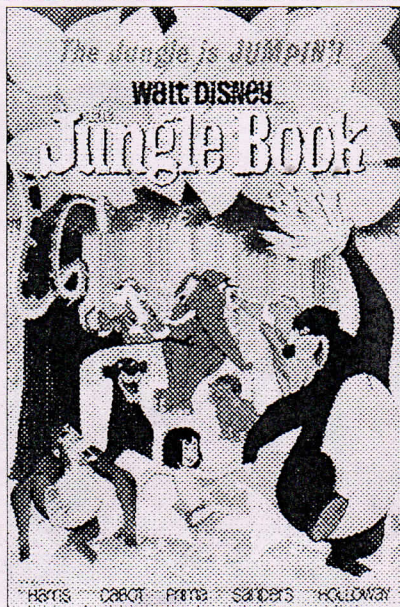

Wart, a 12-year-old orphan meets the wizard Merlin, who decides to give him an education.

For his first lesson, Merlin turns Wart into a perch. For his second Merlin transforms Wart into a squirrel. For his last he's turned into a bird, but during this lesson Wart is taken hostage by "The Marvelous Mad Madam Mim," who's a malicious witch. Merlin locates his hostage student and is challenged by Mim to a wizards' duel, a whimsical, magical contest of wits which leaves her bedridden.

It's only now that Merlin will discover the destiny of this clumsy young lad and you will be there to witness this legend come true.

MARY POPPINS

Ranked as one of the top ten musicals by the AFI, this 1964 movie is a master blend of live action and animation, based on the books of P L Travers. Children Jane and Michael discover that their new nanny can transport them into many magical adventures, including a visit to uncle Albert, who floats when he laughs and a trip into a chalk pavement drawing.

Julie Andrews was cast as Mary Poppins in what was her first film and it made her a major film star. But it was the films many musical numbers that made the film so memorable. 'A Spoonful of Sugar', 'Feed the Birds', 'Chim Chim Cher-ee', & Supercalifragilisticexpialidocious' where on everyone's lips.

If you can only own one Disney feature, this is the one!

Disney: A New Era

During the 70's and 80's it seemed as if Disney had lost interest in the Animated Feature. Among their small output can be gleamed an inkling of what was to appear with advent of the 90's!

THE ARISTOCATS

This 1970 animated adventure is similar to the 1961 feature 'The 101 Dalmatians' as both have a family of cute animals who have been kidnapped. But the similarity stops there as this film is a lively, psychedelic music filled adventure, that could only have been a product of the 70's.

Set in Paris at the beginning of the twentieth century, this is the story of a cat named Duchess and her three kittens who live with Adelaide, who is nearing the end of her life and her butler. The greedy Butler decides to get rid of the cats, who will inherit Adelaide's wealth, and one night drugs and dumps them far from the city.

When the sun rises, Duchess meets a friendly, stray cat named Thomas O'Malley, who befriends the cats and helps them. On the way they have a series of 'way out' adventures, including a 'hot' music session with 'The Scat Cats' a groovy jazz combo, before being reunited with ailing Adelaide.

The Fox & the Hound

Costing $12 million, this 1981 movie (loosely based on the Daniel P. Mannix novel) was the most expensive animated feature up to that time.

The film centers around the story of two unlikely friends, a bloodhound and a red fox.

A young orphaned red fox, Tod, is adopted by a friendly Widow as a pet on a farm. Meanwhile her neighbour, an ill-tempered hunter, brings home a young hound puppy, Copper.

Tod and Copper meet and form a friendship they feel will last forever. But their comradeship disturbs Amos, the hunter, and he sets his mind, that given the chance he will kill Copper. Realizing that Tod can't stay on her farm the Widow leaves him at a nature preserve, where he meets a young vixen and tries to settle down.

However vengeful Amos takes his gun and traps and goes after Tod.

This is a drama of epic proportions, that is punctuated with humour and music.

Who Framed

Roger Rabbit?

This ground breaking 1988 movie was a co-production of Amblin Entertainment and The Walt Disney Company and released by Touchstone Pictures. It blends traditional animation and live action so slickly that it took the box office by storm the world over and quickly took it's place in cinema history.

The film takes place in a fictionalized version of Los Angeles set in the 40's, where animated characters (always referred to as "Toons") are real beings who live and work alongside humans in the real world, most of them as actors in animated cartoons.

All eyes are on Roger Rabbit when Marvin Acme, the owner of the Acme Company and of Toontown, is murdered. Roger, a Toon star at Maroon Cartoons, has recently been shown evidence that Acme and Roger's wife, Jessica Rabbit, a sexy Toon femme fatale, had been playing pattycake together.

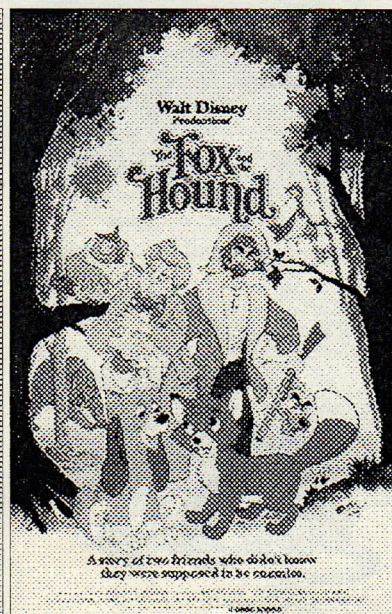

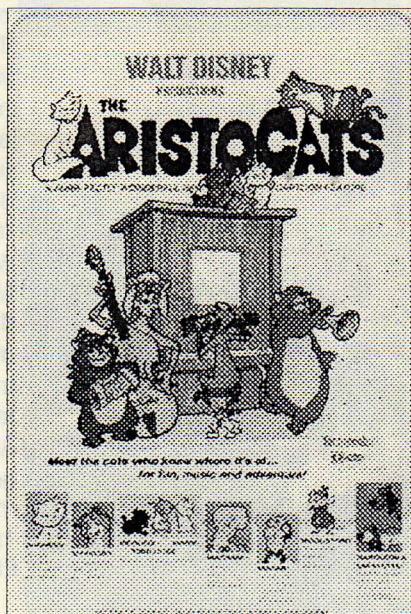

Eddie Valiant, a washed up detective, is reluctantly forced to help and soon finds himself shielding Roger from Judge Doom and his weasel henchmen.

The film is also notable for offering a unique chance to see so many cartoon characters from different studios interacting in a single film, (there are over fifty see if you can spot them), and for being one of the last appearances by voice artists Mel Blanc and Mae Questel from animation's Golden Era.

Starring Bob Hoskins as Eddie with Joanna Cassidy as his girl, Dolores and Christopher Lloyd as Doom this spectacular piece of entertainment won four Oscars at the 61st Academy Awards ceremony in 1989.

Disney: THE FEATURETTES

WINNIE THE POOH & THE BLUSTERY DAY

Pooh, Piglet, Tigger and friends are all here in this 1968 featurette in which a storm floods the Hundred Acre Wood. Both Pooh & Piglet are washed away in the rising water towards a waterfall! But don't worry as Christopher Robin throws a party for everyone at the films climax.

The voice cast is headed by Sterling Holloway and Sebastian Cabot and the musical numbers are supplied by Disney stalwarts Richard and Robert Sherman, who have written so many of the vastly popular melodies that have adorned Disney's films over the years.

MICKEY'S CHRISTMAS CAROL

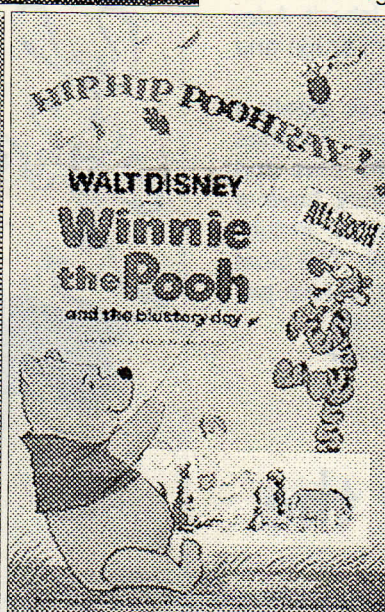

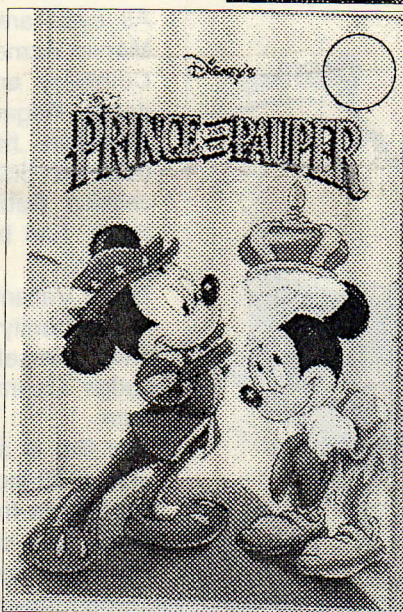

This 1983 adaptation of the Charles Dickens classic and was the first new Mickey Mouse cartoon made in 30 years, his last appearance had been in 1953's 'The Simple Things'.

Featuring Scrooge McDuck as his namesake and inspiration Ebenezer Scrooge, Goofy as the ghost of his late partner Jacob Marley and with Mickey Mouse as Bob Cratchit.

It follows the original storyline and we see Scrooge McDuck visited by the three ghosts as predicted by Marley. The tale finishes with a feast at Bob Cratchit's and the toast 'God Bless Us, Everyone!'

THE PRINCE & THE PAUPER

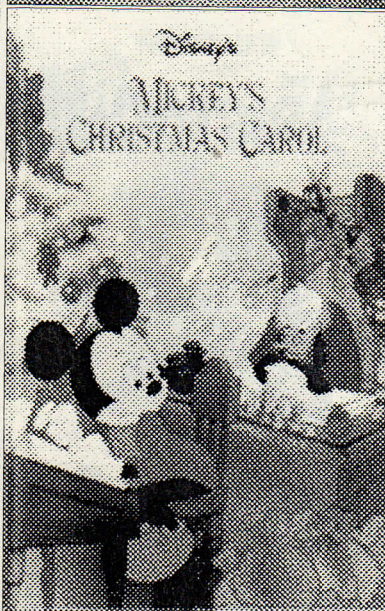

This 1990 adaptation of Mark Twain's historical adventure, tells the story of 2 young boys who are identical in appearance: One a pauper and the other a Prince.

The boys exchange roles, with each discovering how the other lives and after a series of adventures exchange places and resume their normal roles, the pauper now a ward of the King.

Mickey Mouse plays the dual role while all the other characters are portrayed by various Disney favourites.

A great yarn with some genuinely exciting moments.
